

Pioneer Career and Technology Center announces Hunter Sager and Angel Shelton as March 2024 Students of the Month.

Hunter, a senior from Wynford High School, excels in our Welding program and demonstrates dedication both in class and in his community.

Nominated by his Welding instructor, Kip Stevens, Hunter is recognized for his leadership and willingness to assist classmates.

In addition to his academic achievements, Hunter is active in his community, regularly shoveling driveways and preparing meals for elderly neighbors during the winter months.

Hunter is enlisted in the Navy and intends to pursue further education at Hobart Institute of Welding following his service, to advance his career in Welding.

Angel, a Junior from Wynford High School, is enrolled in the Home Remodeling program at Pioneer.

Angel's instructor, Terry Stuart, nominated her for this recognition. He has seen firsthand her commitment to learning and her outstanding skills in home remodeling.

Angel not only excels in the classroom but also goes above and beyond by volunteering her extra time to help her grandpa with small projects.

Angel's future plan is to own her own business in residential construction.
