"Pioneer has been an enjoyable experience, and I really like my lab and instructors," he shared.

In the future, Braydon plans to pursue a tool and die apprenticeship while continuing his education in college. He is focused on building a strong foundation in his field and preparing for a successful career in the manufacturing industry.

Violet, a senior from Buckeye Central High School, is enrolled in the Home Remodeling program at Pioneer. At Buckeye Central, she is involved in cross country, FFA, and Young Life. Outside of school, she enjoys farming with her dad, including feeding cattle and baling hay, as well as spending time outdoors walking or biking with her sister.

"I've had a very pleasant experience at Pioneer and met a lot of new people who pushed me out of my comfort zone," she shared.

SHELBY, OH — Pioneer Career & Technology Center recently celebrated student achievement during its annual National Technical Honor Society (NTHS) Ceremony, recognizing students who demonstrate excellence in career-technical education, leadership, and character.

The National Technical Honor Society honors students who have distinguished themselves through strong academic performance, technical skill development, and a commitment to service and responsibility both in the classroom and in their career programs.

During the ceremony, students participated in the traditional candle-lighting ceremony, representing the seven attributes of NTHS: Skill, Honesty, Service, Responsibility, Scholarship, Citizenship, and Leadership.

Pioneer recognized eight returning two-year NTHS members, students who continue to exemplify these qualities while advancing their career-technical training.

Two-year members include:

The ceremony also welcomed eight new inductees into Pioneer's chapter of the National Technical Honor Society.

Students selected for NTHS membership must maintain high academic standards in their career program while demonstrating leadership, responsibility, and strong character.

Special recognition is extended to NTHS advisors Emma Jenkins and Cassie White for their dedication to mentoring and supporting Pioneer students. Their guidance helps students grow both academically and professionally while preparing for future careers.
